Jesse Fort, Manager of Credit
Tailors, Disappears
From City.

Police Are Looking For Typewriter Agent.

LEAVES HIS WIFE AND BABY.

With threats that he would be a corpse by 10 o'clock the next morning, Jesse Fort, local manager of the Credit Tailors, on Kentucky avenue between Third and Fourth streets, mysteriously disappeared from Paducah Monday night. An investigation into the books the past two days by E. J. Harvick, the new manager, shows an apparent shortage of between $150 and $200. The defalcations may probably run higher.

Fort, it is alleged, was jilted by a young woman of the city. Declaring his girl had thrown him down, he wore a despondent look and made threats. He is said to have written his sweetheart a letter, telling her he would be no more at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. The matter has been kept quiet since then, as it was thought Fort might return, but his continued absence resulted in an investigation into the books of the office. The police were told of his threats and disappearance, but so far the coroner has failed to discover a dead man.

Frank N. Moore, of Cairo, who operates a string of credit tailor establishments, will arrive here Saturday to look over the books.

Fort is 23 years old and came here about six months ago. For several weeks he had been paying attention to a young woman. His home is at Burns. The police have been unable to learn anything concerning his whereabouts.

Can't Find Bryan.

Although a rag net of several cities in Tennessee and the south has been thrown out to apprehend him, the police department at Paducah is still at sea as to the route taken by G. A. Bryan, local manager of the Underwood Typewriter company, who absconded early Wednesday morning after embezzling funds of the concern to the approximate amount of $2,000. Bryan was traced to Hopkinsville, where he boarded a train, presumably for Nashville yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. All trace of him from there was lost and the police of cities of that state and further south have been warned to keep a lookout for him.

Yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock M. E. Roberts, of Louisville, district manager for the typewriter company, swore out a warrant against Bryan for embezzlement before Judge D. A. Cross at the city hall. This was done directly following a telephone message to the chief of police at Hopkinsville, who said Bryan had boarded the train just ten minutes previously, bound south.

All possible efforts to locate him up until 3 o'clock this afternoon were futile and the bonding company will not hesitate at any expense to cause his apprehension, according to Mr. Roberts.

When Mr. Roberts arrived Tuesday and found Bryan short in his accounts he confronted him. Bryan confessed and agreed to make good all shortage. Promising to keep an appointment with Mr. Roberts Tuesday night, Bryan went to the hotel, where he had been boarding, and packed his grip. He left the hotel wearing a light suit of clothes and a light overcoat. That was the last time he was seen. It is presumed he kept himself hidden until time to catch the 1:33 o'clock north bound train early Wednesday.

A grip found at Union station by a cabby was taken to the Palmer House and found to be Bryan's. Inside was his light suit of clothes and it is the theory that he changed clothes in the toilet room at the station just before leaving, wearing a blue serge suit or black one away from Paducah.

Bryan's failure to meet Mr. Roberts aroused the latter's suspicions and yesterday morning he consulted Chief James Collins. Detective Collins told Roberts he had Bryan located and could get his hands on him in a few minutes if the company would agree to reimburse him for his services. As Mr. Roberts was not authorized to offer any reward or go to any expense the matter was dropped until yesterday afternoon when the police were notified. Mr. Collins knew Bryan was in Hopkinsville.

In the meantime Detective Collins had recovered for J. A. Konetzka, a

ROBBERS SHOT.
Joliet, Ill., April 7.—Three men were shot, one fatally, in a fight at Mazon, Ill., today following the robbery of the Coal city bank by five masked men. They fled with $1,200. The wounded men deny complicity in the robbery. Police are holding them.

Jewelry who occupied the building at 315 Broadway, also occupied by Bryan, a typewriter and $90 diamond ring that Bryan is alleged to have "soaked." The property was turned over to Mr. Konetzka. A short time ago he had sold Bryan the ring on a part payment plan.

The exact amount of Bryan's shortage is not known. Mr. Roberts says it is between $1,500 and $2,000, and as far as the typewriter company is concerned the matter is dropped, as the loss is fully covered by a bonding company. Last night Mr. Roberts telegraphed agents for the National Surety company and the American bonding company at Baltimore, Md., and they are expected to reach here Saturday to adjust the loss.

Bryan was bonded by one of these companies for $2,000. Mr. Roberts will remain over until they arrive and make a settlement.

It is the opinion of Mr. Roberts that the bonding company will spend at least $1,000 to catch Bryan just to make an example of him for others.

Bryan took charge of the local office October 1, 1909, and was a sociable young man. He is about 30 years old, short in build and rather stout. He has light hair and generally wore light clothes. He has a wife and baby, who returned to the home of Mrs. Bryan's mother last night, after learning of the charges. Bryan is alleged to have represented himself as an unmarried man on his arrival here. He was before his coming to Paducah bookkeeper in the office of Mr. Roberts at Louisville, and considered an honest and trustworthy young man.

According to a bank book found at the office this morning by Mr. Roberts, Bryan had about $877 deposited in the American-German National bank, with which he did business. Tuesday he is alleged to have drawn out about $190 from the bank. The book shows also that he had a deposit of $194.27 in a Hopkinsville bank and he is said to have drawn out the full amount yesterday afternoon on reaching there. The American-German bank officials say Bryan's deposits were out of town checks and it is not believed that any loss will be sustained by them. However, this will not be ascertained until the other banks are heard from.

Police at Clarksville, Nashville and other points have been notified. The bonding company will push the efforts to locate Bryan and will prosecute.

New Realty Firm

Councilman Al E. Foreman and Alderman Ernest Lackey have bought out the business of O. B. Starks and Frank May and formed a partnership, to be known as the Foreman-Lackey Realty company. They will engage in the business of buying and selling real estate, collecting rents and insuring property. They will occupy room No. 38 in the Brookhill building. Both are well known as substantial men and will no doubt make a success in their new field of work.

Miss Mahoney Was Stopped By Police

While accompanying little Bonnie Verlines, the girl who ran away from a shantytown to escape cruel treatment, to a girls' school in Louisville, Miss Agnes Mahoney, who was the district nurse for the Charity club, was detained by the Louisville police Monday until she established her identity. She was suspected by the police as an agent for the "white slave" traffic, and was held pending an investigation. By letters in her possession, Miss Mahoney convinced the police of her purpose with the girl, and she was released.

Miss Mahoney left Paducah early Monday morning for New York after completing her work in the city. In order that little Bonnie Verlines might have the advantage of an education, kind hearted ladies in the city arranged for the girl to be placed in a Presbyterian girls' school in Louisville. Miss Mahoney took her

The Iowa Fight.

Des Moines, Ia., April 7.—Former Lieutenant Governor Warren Garst today announced that he is a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor against Governor B. F. Carroll. Garst will be backed by the Progressives. Senators Dolliver and Cummings will speak in every congressional district for him. It means war between the Progressives with Garst and the Regulars with Carroll for control of the next state convention.

Irrigation Bill.

Washington, April 7.—Senator Warren's bill authorizing the disposal of the surplus waters of government irrigation projects to private corporations was the subject of prolonged debate in the senate. Indeed, the consideration of this measure engrossed practically the entire session.

When Senator Warren moved to take up the bill no vote was cast in the negative, and it was believed that in view of the subsequent adoption of an amendment guaranteeing the rights of states in the matter of the control of streams within their borders, a compromise had been reached which would insure early action on the bill. Such did not prove to be the case.

The states' rights amendment was presented by Mr. Warren, who said it had been revised by Mr. Heyburn, who had successfully conducted two or three filibusters against the bill.

Heyburn Fights Measure.
Apparently at first mollified by the amendment, Mr. Heyburn ultimately took the position that it would be of no service, and vigorously denounced it as a subterfuge and delusion. He announced, however, that having practically exhausted himself he would not continue his opposition to the bill. The Idaho senator's submission to what apparently he had conceived to be the inevitable was not of long duration. Two or three other senators having given him encouragement to believe he had support on the floor, he renewed his opposition and denounced the measure in as vigorous terms as on any previous day.

When, later in the discussion, Mr. Heyburn stated that the bill had been dictated by the corporations, Mr. Warren denied such was the fact. With some degree of warmth he said: "I deny that imputation. I drew the bill as the result of a suggestion from a government official, and not in the interest of any corporation."

Much of the criticism of the bill by Senator Heyburn was directed to the omission of individuals from the list of those to whom the government may deliver water as provided by the bill. He contended that the effect would be to prevent the use of water for domestic or mining purposes. Denouncing the bill as "a legislative

Rome, April 7.—There is semi-official authority for the statement today that the Pope will send a letter to Cardinal Merry Del Val regarding the cardinal's conduct too severely. The Pope regards the breach of negotiations between Roosevelt and the Vatican as almost regrettable incident of his career. Cardinals believe Merry Del Val committed a blunder, and should be reprimanded by authority.

Roosevelts Leave.

Spazio, April 7.—The Roosevelts made a trip from Rome in a special train. They will begin their second honeymoon today. They will retrace the route taken following their marriage, a quarter of a century ago. They have left the correspondents at Spazio. The colonel promised to wire a brief account of his doings each day. They leave under idyllic conditions for a romance.

HOFFSTOT GOES TO PITTSBURGH

PRESSED STEEL MAGNATE WILL ANSWER TO BRIBERY IN-DICTMENTS.

New York, April 7.—Frank N. Hoffstot, president of the PRESSED Steel company, is ready to go to Pittsburgh to face the indictments. It is rumored that District Attorney Whitman will ask the grand jury to indict Hoffstot here, as he is alleged to have passed alleged bribe money. Hoffstot refused to discuss the Pittsburgh situation. Adrian H. Larkin, attorney for Hoffstot, said, "Mr. Hoffstot is innocent." Later he added, "This indictment business on the part of an overzealous district attorney has become a farce. He said he has been informed that the Pittsburgh grand jury is illegally constituted as the foreman is not a resident of the county."

Hoffstot Must Appear.

Pittsburgh, April 7.—Hoffstot will be arrested unless he obeys the order of the court and appears before the grand jury, according to First Assistant District Attorney Seymour today. He said he will give him a chance to show up. Hoffstot's attorney, William B. Rodgers, said he is going to New York tonight to confer with the banker and will know then if he intends to fight extradition.

Terrible Accident Happens to Dr. W. F. Gardner, of Dycus-burg, Who Has Exhibited Symptoms of Tetanus.

His left ankle fractured and mangled, Dr. W. F. Gardner, a prominent physician of Dycusburg, was brought to Paducah at 11 o'clock this morning on the steamer Ohio and conveyed in Mattill, Edinger & Roth's ambulance to Riverside hospital, where an operation was performed this afternoon. It may be necessary to amputate the limb to save his life. He was accompanied here by Dr. Lawrence, of Golconda, and Mrs. Glass, a trained nurse. Drs. Frank Boyd and O. R. Kidd will perform the operation.

Dr. Gardner went to Golconda yesterday morning and late yesterday afternoon he was returning home in the gasoline launch of Joe Harmon when his left ankle was caught in the shaft. The bones were snapped and the muscles torn away from the bone. The revolving shaft caught a tendon of the leg, winding it around the cylinder and stopping the engine. Before the leg could be released it was necessary to cut the tendon in two with a knife. The boat was turned back to Golconda and Dr. J. W. McCoy and Dr. Lawrence made temporary dressings. Last night symptoms of lockjaw were noticed and it was decided to bring him here for an operation. Dr. Gardner suffered extreme agony at the time of the accident, but opiates were applied by his physicians to relieve the pain. Drs. Boyd and Kidd may find it necessary to amputate the leg on account of the mangled condition.

Tobacco Strike.

Louisville, Ky., April 7.—The local teamsters' union took a hand in the strike of the stemmers in the American Tobacco company's factories here and prevented the removal of a large amount of leaf from one of the closed factories. The American Tobacco company tried to move several dry loads of tobacco from their Thirty-first and Walnut street plant, presumably to the depot for shipment to Richmond, Va., when girl strikers stopped the drays and entreated the drivers to refuse to handle the goods.

The drivers promised to take their teams to the barns after handling the first load and proceeded down town, only to be stopped five blocks from the factory by a representative of the teamsters' union, who ordered the drays returned with their loads to the tobacco factories.

There were several disturbances in the tobacco district during the night, but no serious trouble.

Inspect Plant.

The city administration yesterday gave tacit endorsement to at least one of the demands of the thousand girl striking tobacco workers, when Mayor Head instructed the health department to send inspectors to the tobacco plants to look into the sanitary conditions which have been included in the reasons for the walk-out. The inspectors will ascertain the size of the rooms, the air space, the number of windows, and of people working in each room. The dressing rooms and drinking supply will be examined and if conditions are not proper changes will be ordered at once.

$1,000 Without an Owner.

Winchester, Ky., April 7.—A mandate of the court of appeals, filed in the office of the circuit clerk here yesterday, recalls an interesting case and at once deprives the sum of $1,000 of an owner.

A few years ago, immediately after Mrs. J. B. Marcum had brought suit for damages for $100,000 against the Hargies, Fult French and Ed Callahan for the murder of her husband, a number of the most important witnesses for the plaintiff disappeared.

It was alleged that Mose Feltnier was to receive $1,000 for inducing witnesses to leave the state and that the money was put in bank by Felix Feltnier, who swore that it had been given him by a stranger, to be paid to the first when the contract had been fulfilled. Felix Feltnier and French were compelled to pay heavy fines for the deal, and the former was sent to the penitentiary.

Mose Feltnier sued Felix Feltnier for possession of the $1,000 in the bank, but the lower court held that the whole transaction was illegal. The court of appeals sustained this opinion.

Meanwhile the $1,000 seems to belong to no one.

BRIDGE AFFAIRS WILL BE PROBED BY FISCAL COURT

Resolution Adopted to Hold Up Payments Until Report is Made.

Roads Will be Graveled Under Old Plan.

EXPENSE TO BE APPORTIONED.

As a climax to the April session of the fiscal court, an investigation of the transactions in connection with the erection of the concrete bridges over Clark's river and Perkin's creek was ordered yesterday afternoon by the magistrates. The resolution ordering a complete investigation was not introduced until the minutes had been prepared and court was ready to adjourn. It was expected that the resolution would be offered, but until the eleventh hour it is said that certain influences were used to have the introduction of the resolution deferred until the May meeting.

Magistrate Kuykendall, a Democrat, introduced a written resolution, ordering the appointment of a committee for the investigation of the bridge deals for a public and thorough investigation. Magistrate Emery moved that the resolution be adopted, and Magistrate Walston seconded the motion. When put to a vote it carried, and County Judge Barkley named Magistrates Walston, Householder and Spitzer to investigate.

The investigation was ordered because of a recent publication in The Evening Sun of the case at Muskegon, Okla., and the fact that Councilman W. L. Bower had made affidavit that John Oliphant, of the Vincennes Bridge company had told him about the McCracken county gang.

The resolutions were: Whereas, in the late county campaign in 1909, one, W. L. Bower, made and published an affidavit, which in substance says, that John T. Oliphant, president of the Vincennes Bridge company, made a statement to him (Bower) that the fiscal court of McCracken county was the worst bunch he had ever gotten hold of, and that he had to fix them all to get the contract for the construction of the bridge over Perkin's creek and Clark's river, near the city of Paducah, and,

Whereas the said John T. Oliphant made and published a statement denying any of these words, and,

Whereas a certain newspaper in the city of Paducah has recently published statements to the effect that on the testimony of Oliphant in Oklahoma, two of the officers having charge of the building of county bridges had been indicted for accepting bribes from the Vincennes Bridge company, or John T. Oliphant as its president, and referring again to the affidavits and publications made by Bower and Oliphant concerning this court and, thereby reflecting upon the integrity and the honesty of this court and its respective members, and,

Whereas the said statements and publications made by said Bower and Oliphant as aforesaid were ex parte and without opportunity of either to examine the other or to explain the entire conversation between the parties, if they had any, it is important that for the purpose of maintaining the honesty and integrity of this court above any sort of suspicion or corruption, that a public and impartial investigation be had concerning the statements and publications made by Bower and Oliphant and referred to by the newspaper as above set out.

Therefore be it resolved by this court that the county judge of McCracken county appoint three (3) magistrates of McCracken county to act as a committee to invite and to summons said Bower and Oliphant to appear before them as such committee, and submit themselves to an examination touching said publications and references to this court and the members thereof.

Be it further resolved, That said committee when appointed by the county judge, shall fix the time and place at which they will hear the statements and evidence of each respective parties concerning said matter and such witnesses as either of them may desire to introduce before the committee touching upon said question and, that either party shall have the right to be represented by attorneys at said hearing and giving of testimony before said committee, and, the present county attorney is directed to appear before said committee.

Seventh District Primary.
Frankfort, Ky., April 7.—The Democratic congressional committee of the Seventh Kentucky district, now represented by Congressman Cantrill, at a primary to be held on June 25. Besides fixing the date, the call provides that the expense shall be $3,000, and that each candidate shall put up that sum by June 10. If there is more than one candidate, the pro rata share of each will be returned to him.

The committee is directed to meet in Lexington June 14, and if there is but one candidate at that time the committee is empowered to call the primary off and declare him the nominee.

There has been no definite announcement of any candidate to oppose that of Cantrill.

FOUR DOLLARS.

The committee appointed by the fiscal court for the purpose of arranging a more economical plan of maintaining the county poorhouse will not meet until next week. County Judge Barkley is a member of the committee and quarterly court will keep him busy until next week. The committee has not received any offers for the management of the poorhouse, but Magistrate Walston said one man had told him that he would take it for a contract of $8.33 a month for each inmate. This is a reduction of about $4 for each inmate according to the bills that have been allowed.

Today Mr. W. A. Thompson, the keeper, said that he is still in charge of the poorhouse and has not decided what he will do in case the committee should seek to oust him.

BRIDGE.
Albert Mitchell, who is connected with the Vincennes Bridge company, was in Paducah this morning, preparing for a resumption of the work on the Clark's river concrete bridge. It is expected that Foreman Decker will arrive in a few days and the work begun again after discontinuing the construction during the winter.

It was Mr. Mitchell County Judge T. W. Patterson of Calloway county says told him about the McCracken county trouble. While in the city this morning he learned of the appointment of a committee by the fiscal court to investigate the charges of alleged bribery. He told friends that he and Mr. Oliphant would appear before the committee.

CONSERVATION'S FRIENDS UNITE

WESTERN CONGRESSMEN WILL JOIN ON NEW BILLS.

To Be Introduced in Both House and Senate—President Given Power.

TO INAUGURATE LEGISLATION.

Washington, April 7.—As a direct result of the conservation dinner at the White House last night, members of congress from public lands states and others who hold membership on the public lands committees of the senate and house are endeavoring to reconcile their differences over proposed conservation legislation.

While no measure introduced has obtained the support of a majority of the members of the two committees, it was said today that the Western members are in substantial agreement concerning a new bill for the withdrawal of public lands for various purposes. Such a measure, it is said, is to be introduced simultaneously in both the senate and house, which will include the following features:

Authorizing the president to withdraw public lands in the United States and Alaska for public uses, or for examination and classification to determine their character, use, value and disposition.

Providing that such examination and classification shall be promptly initiated after withdrawal; classification shall be concluded as soon as possible, and the lands shall then be restored to appropriation and disposition under the law applicable thereto.

Authorizing the president to make withdrawals pending the submission to congress of recommendations for legislation.

Requiring the secretary of the interior to support all withdrawals at the beginning of the next regular session of congress after date thereof.

Ratifying and confirming all withdrawals heretofore made and now existing.

Providing that all withdrawals shall remain in force until revoked by the president or by an act of congress.

OVER FOUR MILLIONS

CARRIES BIG ALLOTMENT TO OHIO RIVER WORK.

Million Dollars Available at Once an Yearly Sums Thereafter to Complete Plan.

Washington, April 7.—The forthcoming rivers and harbors bill will carry a total of $4,650,000 for the Ohio river.

Of this amount $1,150,000 is cash and $3,500,000 is authorized, with $500,000 cash for continuing improvements. The bill will be reported the latter part of the week.

Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, a member of the committee, said today the bill is a pronounced step forward.

"There was general feeling in the committee," Senator Simmons, "that an annual river and harbor bill was essentially necessary to put our waterways in condition to handle our growing commerce. In a way the bill is carrying out one of the platforms of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, that there should be a bond issue to take care of the improvements in the event that current revenues were insufficient to make an appropriation of $50,000,000 for ten years possible.

Money Needed Every Year.

"While we have not issued bonds we have recognized in the committee the necessity for an annual river and harbor bill. The bill recognizes meritorious projects and appropriate liberality for them to the end that they may be completed within reasonable time, and until they are completed the annual feature of the bill will continue.

"One of the first fruits of this new system will be a more liberal treatment of the waterways and a well-defined plan for their improvement conditioned upon a favorable report from the War Department.

County Road Work.

County roads were the topic of discussion yesterday afternoon at the closing session of the fiscal court. It is the intention of the court to improve as many of the roads as possible, but the magistrates are limited financially and the money in the road and bridge fund was distributed to the different departments so as to leave the largest possible amount for the extension of the mileage of gravel roads. The distribution of the fund to the different departments is not arbitrary, but can be changed if necessary by an unexpected heavy expense in any department.

Petitions for the graveling of the Cairo, Hinkleville, Grahamville and Said roads have been received, while petitions are being prepared for the graveling of the Massae, Lovelaceville and Ragland roads. The property owners abutting the roads will pay half the expense of the graveling and the county the other half. For this purpose the county has set aside $14,000, which will mean that about 30 miles of roads can be gravelled, as the average cost of a gravel road is approximately $1,000 a mile. It was agreed that most of the graveling was to be done in the Seventh and Eighth districts, where the mileage of improved roads is small.

Bridge Debt.

With this year's apportionment for the road and bridge fund the fiscal court has to meet a debt of $11,000 on the Clark's river concrete bridge, which was inherited from the last administration. The apportionment is subdivided as follows: Emergency, $5,000; repairing of gravel roads, $1,000; repairing of dirt roads, $8,500; culverts, $3,000; sewers, $1,000; graders and machinery, $500; Clark's river bridge deficit, $11,000; graveling dirt roads, $14,000. The sum of money in the road and bridge fund is $37,000.

Public drinking fountains will not be established in the county, as the recommendation of the road committee was rejected yesterday afternoon by a vote of 5 to 3. Magistrate Ross was the champion for the fountains, and in an eloquent speech said that the watering places are public necessities. He said that the county has been settled up so that it is no longer possible to secure water from streams, as the fences keep transients from trespassing on private property. When put to a vote Magistrate Bleich, Spitzer and Ross voted in favor of the establishment of the fountains.

Power was given the road committee to close deals for the purchase of land for the purpose of using it for a right-of-way. Often the committee arranges with the owner of property to purchase it at a certain figure, but when it is placed before the fiscal court the owner has increased the price, and the committee seeks to avoid this trouble. The right to purchase timber and gravel was left with the county road supervisor, but when he feels he needs the advice of the road committee a conference will be held.

The question of selecting a set of rules governing the county poorhouse from two sets of rules now on file, was deferred until the next meeting.

A letter from the Kentucky Children's Home society was received and filed.

The recommendation of the road committee for the county attorney to compile a list of the county roads with the width of the right-of-way was rejected. County Attorney Clay said it would require a year's work through the records in order to secure the data.

The court adjourned until the regular May meeting.

B. M. ALLEN

Jug and Bottle Trade a Feature---"Moore & Moore" Whisky Constitutes a Leading Brand.

For many years the New Richmond bar has been one of the most popular refreshment resorts for Paducah men, tourists and travelers visiting this city. Its favor, however, has never been higher than under the proprietorship of B. M. Allen, who has had charge of the business since 1904. Mr. Allen has kept the standard of the place up to the highest possible degree and has exerted the utmost judgment in selecting the purest wines and liquors for his patrons. The bar is maintained for individual users and is elegantly fitted up, the fixtures and facilities kept in the perfection of cleanliness and the service is of the highest possible class. In this establishment an appetizing liquid refreshment such as a glass of Rhine wine, Hungarian or Austrian wines, imported direct; Tokay, Moselle, Sherry, Port, Burgundy, Claret or Amontillado may be discussed, while the finest brands of Kentucky Bourbon or Scotch whiskies, fine brandies, English ale or Porter and special brews of imported and American beers are served to those who prefer. Skilled attendants deftly mix fancy drinks to order, such as cocktails, highballs, mint-juleps, creme de menthes and the famous Pousse Cafe. As recently as December, 1909, Mr. Allen inaugurated a jug and bottle trade in which the finest "Moore & Moore" whiskey and other "original package" liquors are sold to patrons and this department is appreciated by buyers of liquors for buffet and table uses. Mr. Allen is personally popular with the trade, being a man of cordial manners who has the ability of making friends without effort. He is esteemed in Paducah for his general good citizenship and numbers his friends in this vicinity by the score.

Daily Thought.

Too many people's idea of a friend is some one they can impose upon.

We know just how Michigan feels—half dry.

Yesterday congress granted to Theodore Roosevelt the franking privileges for his messages. There was a time when congress wouldn't turn over its hand to give him free expression of his ideas.

"Hell Raising Teddy" the Louisville Times calls him; but we're all mighty proud of Teddy, just the same.

We pause to inquire if Mount Etna has given up in despair since Roosevelt reached Rome.

A southern Illinois girl picked a dynamite cartridge with a hat pin. Now, it will never get well.

Four bandits entered a bank in a Pittsburgh suburb and killed the president and cashier. Press dispatches say that all suspicious characters are being rounded up today. We thought they usually waited until a meeting of the general council in Pittsburgh to do that.

Sixty applications were submitted to a maternity hospital at Atlanta, when bids were invited for two girls babies. Here's another subject for J. J. Hill to give his views on.

Will R. Scott in the Third District Review refers to April as the birth month of great people: Thomas Jefferson, Washington Irving, William Ellery Channing, Henry Clay, John Lothrop Motley, Samuel F. B. Morse, Ulysses S. Grant and James Monroe. There is one other birthday in the month, which he failed to mention, and which modestly on our part forbids us to even hint at.

POLITICAL LESSONS.

"Democracy has learned a lesson," is the popular introduction for editorials in the Democratic press of the state about the political situation. A definition would be valuable. The New York World arouses nation-wide interest in the query "What is a Democrat?" We would ask what does the press mean by the Democratic party?

If it refers to the thousands, who vote the ticket, and take no other part in the party's affairs, we suggest that they need no lesson. Voting the party ticket, as long as they decently can, they vote the Republican ticket when good citizenship demands it of them.

If the press refers only to those active agencies, which in the end combine to select the ticket and formulate party policies, we suggest that those men can learn no lesson, because the results they achieve are always compromises between interests directly concerned in the character of government and officials.

Yet, it is to these very agencies the papers eventually refer; for their conclusions limp lamely among such names as J. C. W. Beckham, John Whallen, Ollie James, John Allen, Urey Woodson, et al. That is the Democratic party, when nominations are to be considered. The Democratic party after the nomination is a very different thing. Votes are wanted then, not candidates.

What we say of the Democratic party in Kentucky is true of all other parties, everywhere. We wish to point a general principle with a particular case.

When these men get together, they may consider voters, in reference to the candidate who can attract most of them; but the voters' theories and ideals of government do not enter into the situation at all. There are particular purposes to be subserved, elements to be placated, interests to be protected, as well as their good will to be courted. So popular government thrives in spite of, rather than by reason of our democratic systems, and democracy is a temporary failure in municipalities.

If the voters had a voice in the selection of public officials, we have confidence enough in the people to believe they would use good judgment. They do not have it in primaries and conventions to the extent good government demands. They are divided by party lines then. The interests inimical to good government are never divided by party lines, and hence, are the balance of power, especially in local contests.

We assume there is little difference, outside of superficial prejudices, between patriotic Democrats and patriotic Republicans. They desire the same kind of government, they desire the same kind of men, and, when their party spirit is not aroused by designing politicians, they desire the same measures.

They can have a deciding voice in the selection of their officials when names are placed on the ballot by petition, and the number of names necessary on the petition made reasonable. Two hundred good citizens pledged to a certain course could swing every election in Paducah; but pledges are not necessary, either in city or state, when we dispense with much of our corroding party machinery.

Both factions of Tennessee Democracy assure the voters twice a day—once in the evening papers and once in the next morning's papers—that all they desire is fair play. The only difficulty seems to be their inability to agree on what constitutes fair play.

HANDING IT TO THE A. P.

As to the election in Illinois, every bit of information obtainable by the Associated Press up until 2 o'clock yesterday morning was published in Wednesday morning's paper. — News-Democrat, April 7.

If anyone has a copy of Wednesday morning's Commercial-Appeal, Journal or Herald, Cincinnati Enquirer, or a Chicago or St. Louis paper handy, he will acquire some information as to the truth of this bare faced statement, that the Associated Press didn't handle the results of Tuesday's Chicago elections on Tuesday night.

This is what the News-Democrat had on the subject Wednesday morning:

Incomplete returns of the local option issue vote in 240 cities and towns throughout Illinois today, indicated substantial gains for "wets" throughout the state.

To say that such is all the Associated Press got on that election up to 2 o'clock in the morning after the vote was taken, is a serious reflection on its service; but bears out what we claim: that the evening papers handle the news while it is hot, and even beat the morning papers to news of the night before.

A COMPARISON.

Yesterday we called attention to the fact that our local contemporary, which overlooked the local option election in 240 Illinois towns and the Central City cyclone of the night before, put a "special" line on a Rome story, which was then 48 hours old. This morning, impudently or ignorantly, or both, the paper admits that its "special" line was placed above associated press articles. We do not know the rules of the associated press, governing its morning papers; but some associations would fine a member, which would do such a thing. "Special" has a precise meaning in newspaper parlance; it means an article sent by the paper's own local correspondent from any place. It matters not whether the story comes by telegraph, telephone, mail or word of mouth; it is "special" if it is prepared and intended for that particular paper, and not for a group of associated papers, such as the associated press. Just so, the words "staff correspondence" mean that the article was written by a member of the paper's regular staff.

Dodging the point, the morning paper launches into a long explanation of the system of the associated press. If it is so proud of its connection, then, why does it not place over its articles "By Associated Press?" We offer this as a suggestion in the interest of truth and honest journalism.

As for its service; we know how much it gets by telegraph. On its front page today, for instance, it has five telegraph stories at the top of the page. Four of these appeared in the Evening Sun of yesterday, with big heads on them. Two of them happened, Tuesday night, and were covered by all the big morning papers Wednesday. Column one contains a story about Roosevelt dismissing reporters and starting for Genoa, which we had at the top column seven yesterday. Column two contains a story about Roosevelt dismissing reporters and starting for Genoa, which we had at the top of column seven yesterday. Column four contains the story of the Illinois election, which took place Tuesday and appeared Wednesday morning in all first class papers, and was handled by The Evening Sun yesterday in a column and a half story on the seventh page. Column six contains a story about the president cancelling his speaking engagement at Indianapolis, which The Evening Sun covered yesterday on the front page. Column seven contains a story about the Central City cyclone, which happened Tuesday night, and should have been covered by the morning paper of Wednesday. We had the story under a two column head on the front page yesterday and we are pleased to observe that our morning contemporary did not have the nerve to place a "special" line over this article; because it was clipped verbatim from the noon edition of the Louisville Evening Post, which arrived here last night.

It is all right, perhaps, to boast about the news gathering facilities of the particular press association, to which one subscribes for a limited service; but the proof of the pudding is in the eating, and the proof of the news service, is what you present for the perusal of your subscribers. The Evening Sun is connected with the United Press associations, the best and most concise day service in the world, designed especially for evening papers with a corps of correspondents trained to brief, crisp expression. Its men are stationed in every city in the world. In addition to this service, The Evening Sun has local correspondents in Kentucky and Southern Illinois to supplement its regular press service. We get more words by telegraph every day than the morning paper, and actual comparison, such as we have made today, indicates the superiority of our service.

SOME STORIES AROUND TOWN

It is not generally known that the postoffice clerks are not obliged to make change when purchases are made at the business place of Uncle Sam. It seems a queer rule, but it is on the back of Uncle Sam and every postmaster can entrench himself behind it at any time. A clerk at the stamp window can require the purchaser to furnish the exact change when purchasing stamps, but it is not done because the postoffice clerks are glad to accommodate the people, and to get rid of so much change. If a person wanted fifty cents worth of stamps and offered $1 in payment the postmaster could require the purchaser to do without the stickers or else get change. Another law of the postoffice department is that a postoffice employee is not compelled to take more than 25 pennies for any one purchase.

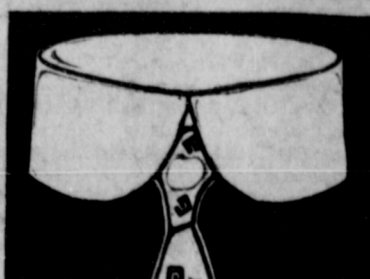

THE DEATH CHAIR

ELECTROCUTION LAW CAUSES CONSIDERABLE SPECULATION.

Persons Sentenced to Death Before the Middle of June Will Be Hanged.

Frankfort, Ky., April 7.—

Now that the bill establishing electrocution as the means of inflicting the death penalty, instead of by hanging, the time when the new law becomes effective is attracting interest. It was thought that any person sentenced to death, if the date was fixed subsequent to June 14, when the new law becomes effective, would be electrocuted instead of hanged. There have been many questions asked regarding the new law and they have been answered by Capt. Jack Morris, assistant stant secretary of state, who looked up the various points in the new law.

Capt. Morris finds that the new law expressly says that it shall apply only to persons convicted of crimes committed after the law became effective, which will be June 14. So, if a man kills another on June 13 and is convicted and sentenced to death he will be hanged in the county in which the crime was committed, instead of being put to death by electricity inside the walls of the penitentiary. That being the construction that the court gives to the new law it follows that there may be hangings in Kentucky for a year or more to come, as a man who may be sentenced to death seldom is hanged for a year after the crime.

It will take many months to build a death house and get the electric fixtures and current required. At present neither prison has enough current to kill a man and extra dynamos will have to be installed.

Prospects for a most successful meet is anticipated by the officers of the Southwestern Kentucky Medical association in Paducah May 10 and 11. It will be the fortieth annual session, Paducah having had the last meeting. The meeting-place has been decided upon. Dr. C. E. Purcell, secretary of the association, will have charge of the program and is busy sending out notices to different physicians who have been requested to give lectures along medical lines of interest. The physicians are urged to send in the subjects of their papers by April 16—in order that the program can be arranged and given to the printer. A record breaking attendance is looked for this year.

crime," he asserted he could explain the apparent willingness of senators to permit the measure to pass only on the ground that they either failed to comprehend the terms of the bill or to appreciate their duty as senators.

Heyburn Antagonized.
At this juncture Senator Carter attempted to pour oil on the troubled waters by proposing an amendment including individual consumers, but while the amendment was accepted by all, this action did not have the effect of putting a stop to the discussion, in which Messrs. Carter, Heyburn, Borah, Warren, Burkett, Flint and Jones participated.

Senator Heyburn was again sharply antagonized by his colleague, senator Borah, who, in emphatic terms, declared the bill to be in the interest of and acceptable to the people of Idaho. Pointing out that the bill provided only for the payment for the delivery of water by the government, he contended it did not authorize the sale of water, as had been asserted.

"Then how can the government sell it?" inquired the senior senator from Idaho.

"The government does not sell it," flatly replied the junior senator from Idaho.

"The bill so provides," positively asserted Mr. Heyburn.

"It does not do anything of the kind," even more emphatically responded Mr. Borah.

Both senators evidently were stirred over the situation. Later Mr. Heyburn expressed regret at the fact that he was in conflict with his colleague. Mr. Borah did not appear to be at all pacified by the mild manner of his associate.

"He differs not only from me, but from the state land board and all others who have the matter in charge," he said. With this exchange of amenities, the bill was laid aside for the day.

FURNITURE HOUSE OF C. H. TERRY

218 Kentucky Avenue Recently Opened.

In the furniture line the newest addition to Paducah's resources is the house of C. H. Terry, who is a dealer in furniture and stoves, carpets and queensware and inaugurates in this city the business of a furniture exchange. Mr. Terry gained his experience from Garner Bros., in this city. The quarters at 218-220 Kentucky avenue have been completely stocked by Mr. Terry with an excellent assortment of both new and old furniture, a complete line of stoves and ranges of the best makes, a large department of carpets, rugs, draperies and curtains and an assortment of queensware, which popularizes his house at once with the local housewife. As a furniture exchange Mr. Terry receives old furniture in good condition and after renovating and repairing it places it on sale on a commission basis. The stock of new furniture which he sells is distinct from the exchange department and is unsurpassed for quality and general worth and attractiveness by many handled in this city. The premises, 35x109 feet in area, are light and are well arranged. The lines embrace everything in parlor, bed-room and dining-room suits, also handsome single pieces such as easy chairs, sideboards, sofas, davenport, china cabinets, library tables, center tables, brass beds, hall trees, music cabinets, tabourettes, etc. Hot weather specialties are willow and rattan chairs, porch chairs, tables and tabourettes, ice boxes, refrigerators, water-coolers and ice cream freezers offered at the end-of-the-season prices. The store is within 200 feet of Third street on Kentucky avenue and is close to the business center, while his delivery system covers every part of the city. S.S.S. PURELY VEGETABLE

It is a generally recognized fact that medicines taken from the botanical kingdom are better adapted to the delicate human system, and safer in every way, than those composed of strong mineral mixtures.

In the early settlement of this land, our forefathers were obliged to procure their medicines from Nature's great laboratories of forest and field. They searched out and compounded the different vegetable materials into teas, concoctions and medicines. That these pioneers found the most potent and valuable of the roots, herbs and barks placed at their disposal, is abundantly proven by the fact that the great majority of them were blessed with rugged health. They cured their diseases and were enabled to do the great preliminary work of civilization because the remedies they used were Nature's remedies, and specially adapted to the needs of humanity.

Among the very best of these vegetable preparations is S. S. S., a medicine made entirely of roots, herbs and barks in such combination as to make it the greatest of all blood purifiers and the finest of all tonics. S. S. S. does not contain the least particle of mineral in any form, and is absolutely a safe medicine for any one to use.

While purifying the blood this great vegetable remedy builds up and strengthens every portion of the system. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Malaria, Scrofula, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison, hereditary taint, and all other diseases and disorders caused by impure or polluted blood.

As a tonic S. S. S. is unequalled. It invigorates every portion of the system, and the healthy blood it creates largely assists in overcoming any derangement of the digestive system. If you are suffering from any blood trouble, or need a tonic to build up your constitution, you could not do better than to take S. S. S., a medicine that is in no degree harmful. Book on the blood and any medical advice free.

IS A HUSBAND WIFE'S PROPERTY

QUESTION PRESENTED YESTERDAY TO SUPREME COURT.

Southern Railway Company Defendant in Case Taken Up in Georgia.

PRECEDENT IN DAMAGE SUITS.

Washington, April 7.—Whether a husband may be considered the "personal property" of his wife, and whether the "Blow-Post law" of Georgia is constitutional are two of the questions at stake in the unique suit of Mrs. Josephine King, of Georgia, against the Southern Railway company, argued today before the supreme court of the United States.

It comes up at a time when the only bachelor justice of the court, Justice Moody, is too ill to consider the case. The suit is for damages arising out of a railroad accident. In the autumn of 1903 Mrs. King, her husband, A. O. King, and her daughter, Miss Inez King, were riding along a country road in Georgia behind a mule. A high bank obscured the view of the tracks of the Southern Railway company just ahead of them. As the mule got squarely upon the track, a through passenger train from Washington to Atlanta struck it and the buggy, killing King, and injuring the wife and daughter.

Mrs. King got damages in the state courts for injuries to her person. She also sued on the death of her husband. It is this suit which was argued here today before the supreme court.

In the lower court the railroad company contended that the recovery in the state court for injuries to her person estopped Mrs. King from maintaining an action for the death of her husband. The circuit court of appeals for the Fifth circuit in passing on the judgment of Mrs. King for $3,250 for the death of her husband, considered the argument by the railroad.

"The contention is made that the injuries to the person of the wife and the loss occasioned by the death of her husband, said the court, constitute single cause for action and that separate actions will not lie. This contention appears to be seriously made, but in the practice and procedure of the several states it would appear to be a legal novelty without law or precedent. If it be conceded that the deceased husband was the 'personal property' of the plaintiff herein, then the contention would be supported by the decision of every state court but one."

Where injuries to the person and physical property of the injured party occur out of the single tort, then, and in that event, the tort to the person and the property constitutes a single cause of action; and as previously suggested the same would be presented in single suit. This is the English view and the holding is the same in all American courts with the one exception. The declaration that the husband is the "personal property" of the wife has not yet received the sanction of the court or text writers. The rule as to a single cause of action has no application where the injury is suffered in a different capacity or by different persons.

The "personal property" question was not dealt with by the counsel for the railroad in a brief in the case submitted to the supreme court before the argument today. The railroad's fight before the supreme court is on the constitutionality of the "Blow-Post law." At the time of the accident, the trial court held the railroad negligent because it was violating the law. So it became material for the railroad to show that the law was not valid.

The law was passed in 1852. "I have found nothing like it anywhere else," said John J. Strickland, counsel for the railroad in his brief. It requires a railroad engineer to blow his whistle from a blow post 400 yards from every highway crossing until he arrives at the road, and to simultaneously check and keep checking the speed of his train so as to stop in time should any person or thing be crossing the track on the highway.

The railroad contends that the statute imposes an unreasonable burden on interstate commerce. It is said, for instance, that it would require twelve hours for a train to run from Atlanta to Macon, Ga., a distance of about 100 miles, if the statute were obeyed strictly.

Suffered Miserably

Cardui Helped Her

"I suffered miserably," writes Mrs. Mattie L. Bishop, of Waverly, Va. "Very often I would have to go to bed until it wore off. Everything I ate made me miserable and I could not even wash the dishes after a meal. My husband begged me to try CARDUI, but I had tried so many medicines I didn't want to. However, for his sake I tried CARDUI and before I had taken one bottle I felt all right. I can now do all my work and recommend CARDUI to every woman."

Are you one of the thousands of women who suffer as Mrs. Bishop suffered? Don't be discouraged—take CARDUI, the woman's tonic. It has relieved thousands, when other remedies have failed. You owe it to yourself to try this great remedy, for it is only reasonable to believe it will help you, too, since it has benefited so many others.

CARDUI is a purely vegetable tonic, containing no injurious drugs, and therefore perfectly harmless and good for young and old. It acts gently on the delicate female constitution and leaves no bad after-effects.

Try CARDUI—it can't harm you—it will surely help you. At all druggists.

Oil With Asphaltum For Streets.

As the city of Paducah has experimented to some extent with what is known as the standard asphalt road oil, in order to determine the value of this product as a dust exterminator and street preserver, it may be of interest to the general public to know just what this product is.

Standard asphalt road oil is a manufactured product practically odorless, containing from 35 to 50 percent petroleum, asphalt, varying in percentage, according to the nature of the road to be treated. The petroleum asphalt in this product is the important feature. Experience and experiments have proved that asphalt properly laid and maintained secures the object, a dustless, durable road, apart from this quality of standard asphalt road oil as a road building material, it has many other features to recommend it. It produces as near as possible a perfect sanitary condition, exterminating to a certain extent the house fly and mosquito nuisance. Also, making it impossible for any kind of disease germ to live and multiply in a street so treated. It also saves wear and tear on all kinds of vehicles and machines and wearing apparel by the extermination of fine particles of dust, grit and sand. It has also been proven by experiment that in cost it is actually cheaper than water sprinkling.

The writer would call attention to the difference between this product, which is manufactured to meet certain specifications, and crude oil, which has been used in some sections of the country with very good results, so far as the dust nuisance is concerned, but has no special value as a road preserver, and as the oil is light and evaporates quickly, making frequent applications necessary, thus making it too expensive for the average town or city to use.

ATTORNEY W. A. BERRY TO ADDRESS STATE BAR.

Attorney W. A. Berry has accepted an invitation to deliver an address before the annual meeting of the Kentucky State Bar association, which will meet in Middlesboro July 12, 13 and 14. His subject is "Some Great Lawyers of Kentucky," and it will be the first address of a series that will be delivered at the annual meetings. Paducah had the meeting last summer, and the attorneys are considering chartering a special car for the purpose of making the trip to Middlesboro.

The use of trackless trolleys is rapidly extending in Europe. An uncut diamond looks very much like a bit of the best gum arabic. A horse eats nine times its weight in food in a year, a sheep six times.

Welcome Words To Women

If, you are an intelligent thinking woman, in need of relief from weakness, nervousness, pain and suffering, then it means much to you that there is one tried and true honest square-deal medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION, sold by druggists for the cure of woman's ills. The makers of

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

for the cure of weak, nervous, run-down, over-worked, debilitated, pain-racked women, knowing this medicine to be made up of ingredients, every one of which has the strongest possible endorsement of the leading and standard authorities of the several schools of practice, are perfectly willing, and in fact, are only too glad to print, as they do, the formula, or list of ingredients, of which it is composed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper. Is this not a significant fact worthy of careful consideration?

Women use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in preference to all other advocated medicines sold by druggists for their peculiar weaknesses and ailments because it is

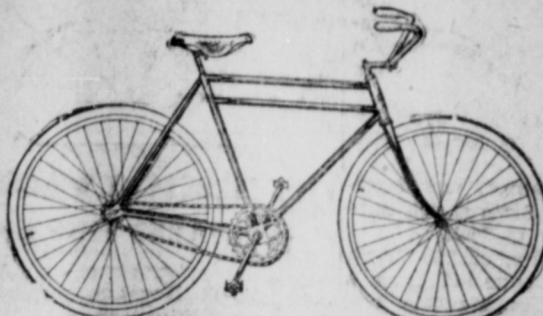

THE ONE REMEDY which contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs, is not anything like advertised secret compounds or patent medicines.

THE ONE REMEDY for women devised by a regularly graduated physician of vast experience in woman's ailments and carefully adapted to her delicate organism.

THE ONE REMEDY good enough that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on its outside bottle-wrapper.

It's foolish—often dangerous to be over-persuaded into accepting a secret nostrum in place of this time-proven medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Look at the Companies Behind Your Fire Insurance

A few weeks ago, in a very nearby town, one of the most prominent merchants lost his entire stock of goods by fire.
He was fully insured, he thought.

When time for settlement came however, he found the one company in which he had the biggest insurance, was insolvent, BROKE, and the loss wiped the merchant out of

CLIMAX IN THE GREAT EXPOSURE

PRESIDENT OF PRESSED STEEL CAR CO. CHARGED.

He Paid Over $52,000 to Former Pittsburgh Councilman to Get His Banks Named.

THIS CAUSED A SENSATION

Pittsburgh, April 7.—The climax promised in the Pittsburgh graft ex-posure came with a presentment by the grand jury of a report in which it recommended the indictment of Frank W. Hoffstot, president of the Pressed Steel Car company, president of the German National bank of Allegheny and prominently identified with other banks, on the charge that he paid to Charles Stewart, a former select councilman, $52,500 as a bribe to influence the votes of councilmen to pass an ordinance naming three banks in which Hoffstot was interested as the official depositories of the city funds.

The alleged payment of money to Stewart was made at New York in 1908, and the late James W. Friend, an officer of the Pressed Steel Car company, was an associate in the transaction.

The original plan of Friend was to obtain the services of William A.
Blakeley, who is now district attorney in charge of the graft prosecutions, as stake holder until the ordinance was passed, but Blakeley declined to act and warned all parties of the criminality of the plan.

It is also charged that Hoffstot obtained from James N. Young, cashier of the Second National Bank of Pittsburgh, $21,000 to be paid Stewart to insure the selection of the Second National as a city depository. The ordinance naming the city depositories was passed July 9, 1908, over the mayor's veto. While Hoffstot is best known as president and director of the Pressed Steel Car company he is also president and director of the Canada Car company, Limited; of the Chicago and Calumet River Railway and Western Steel Car and Foundry company. He is also secretary and treasurer of the Southern Shore railroad.

Simultaneously with the grand jury report in open court came the plea of Emil Winter, president of the Workmen's Savings and Trust company that he had no defense to make to the charge that he gave $20,000 bribe to former Councilman Morris Elmslie. When Winter appeared in court Judge R. S. Frazer, who is presiding in the graft cases, asked to be excused from hearing the plea, on account of his long and intimate friendship with Winter.
Judges Carnahan and Swearingin heard the formal plea. Sentence was postponed.

The restorative power of sound sleep can not be over estimated and any ailment that prevents it is a menace to health. J. L. Southern, Eau Claire, Wis., says: "For a long time I have been unable to sleep soundly nights, because of pains across my back and soreness of my kidneys. My appetite was very poor and my general condition was much run down. I have been taking Foley's Kidney Pills but a short time and now sleep as sound as a rock. I eat and enjoy my meals, and my general condition is greatly improved. I can honestly recommend Foley's Kidney Pills as I know they have cured me."—Gilbert's Drug store.

LOCAL OPTION IN NEBRASKA.

89 Wet Towns, 63 Drys, Result of Recent Elections.

Omaha, April 7.—The Merchants and Manufacturers' association, in a statement issued, says returns have been received from 135 cities and villages of Nebraska which voted on the license question. Of these 76 favored the wet policy, to which number is added 13 wet towns not voting on the question this year, making a total of 89 wet towns,
having a population of 171,185.

Of towns voting 59 adopted the dry policy, to which number is added eight towns not voting on the question this year, or 63 dry towns
having a population of 86,713.

The returns show that 11 towns,
having a population of 17,200,
changed from the wet to the dry policy, while 15 towns, having a population of 42,825, changed from the dry to the wet policy.

The servant wrote as follows:
"When sweeping the dining room

RAILROAD BILL TO BE RUSHED

SENATE WILL TAKE UP MEAS-URE IN EARNEST.

Elkins Gives Notice as Soon After Monday as Speeches Are Exhausted Vote Will Be Asked.

HE WILL FORCE ATTENDANCE

Washington, April 7.—The senate will take up the railroad bill in earnest next Monday. Senator Elkins, in charge of the measure, gave notice that immediately after the conclusion of routine business on Monday he would ask to have the bill proceeded with and that voting should begin whenever the fact develops that no one was prepared to proceed with a speech.

The notice was the direct result of a suggestion from Senator Clapp, of Minnesota. When, at 2 o'clock as usual, Elkins was about to ask that the railroad bill be temporarily laid aside because no one was prepared to speak on it, Clapp interrupted with the suggestion that he would insure a better attendance of senators, prompt speeches and more expedient disposition of the bill by advising the senate that he would press the bill. Clapp said if this course should be pursued, the minority senators would insist on a vote on the absence of speeches.

Elkins replied that a number of senators had left the city with the understanding that no vote would be taken on the bill during the present week. The notice for Monday was generally favorably accepted.

FIND STOLEN AUTO.

Millionaire's Machine in Pere Marquette Freight Car.

Detroit, Mich., April 7.—Detectives here in company with John J.
Burgess, of New York, found the latter's $4,500 automobile in a freight car in the Pere Marquette railroad yards. The machine was stolen in New York March 9 and Burgess had traced it to Kenosha and Milwaukee, Wis., and back to Detroit.

The theft is said to be one of many perpetrated in Chicago and New York by a young man and young woman who are said to have already taken automobiles valued at $20,000. The machine found here was sold to a Milwaukee lumber firm for $650. Burgess will probably start suit to recover the automobile, which he drove in New York for parties that hired him by the hour.

The new main line railroad track built in the United States in 1909 amounted to 3,748 miles. In 1908 3,214 miles were laid.

Tobacco Market.

Louisville, April 7.—On the local tobacco breaks the record price for dark tobacco was paid when eight hogsheads of dark tobacco sold at the Pickett House at an average price of 13 3/4c. The tobacco was grown by Gus Fields of Fulton county, and two of the hogsheads sold at 14c; one at 13 3/4c; one at 13 1/2c; one at 13c and one at 12c. The 14 cents paid for the best hogsheads is the highest price paid for dark tobacco this season.

Live Stock.

Louisville, April 7.—The receipts of hogs were 1,056 head; for the three days this week 3,217. The market opened easy and a dime lower on all grades; selected, 165 lbs. and up, selling at $10.85; 130 to 165 lbs. $10.45; pigs ranged from $8.65 to $10; roughs $10.05 down. The market closed weak, and indications are for a shade lower prices.

Cattle.

Receipts 102 head; for the three days this week 1,129. The attendance of buyers was light; the demand limited and the market quiet throughout the day; choice handy weight butchers were in fall demand and about steady; there was also a very good inquiry for the best feeders and stockers, but all medium, plain and common grades were very slow and the tendency toward a shade lower prices. Bulls steady; canners dull. No prime heavy shipping cattle here; feeding easy.

Calves.

Receipts 134; for the three days this week 400 head. The market ruled slow and lower; bulk of the best 7 1/2 @ 8c; some fancy shade higher; medium 5 1/2 @ 7c; common 2 1/2 @ 5c.

ONE CONDUCTOR WHO WAS CURED

Mr. Wilford Adams is his name, and he writes about it.—"Some time ago I was confined to my bed with chronic rheumatism. I used two bottles of Poley's Kidney Remedy with good effects, and the third bottle put me on my feet and I resumed work as a conductor on the Lexington, Ky. Street Railway. It gave me more relief than any medicine I had ever used, and it will do all you claim in cases of rheumatism by eliminating the uric acid from the blood. Gilbert's drug store."
